Robert

In this email you say that `

- 1) Nothing was sent out based on my list
- 2) He has just not used it

You are replying to an email in which I ask:

"So you have the list of everything that was sent out, and it is reconciled to the tax return for postage, with invoices from the vendor?"

Implicit in your response is that you have done all this, and still reached the same conclusion. I would like to see a copy of your evaluation.

Is 10 am Friday good for everyone?

Nothing was sent out based on your list. I have seen the deals where he made money and how those deals got created. His tax return is being prepared now. He is not saying your program is worthless. He has just not used it.
